WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 .- (AP) An official forecast that this year's domestic corn crop will be the smallest in 50 years was coupled today with a prediction that much livestock will have to be marketed and grain rations reduced for stock kept over the winter.

Based on August 1 conditions, the prospective 1936 corn harvest was estimated at 1,439,135,000 bushels by the crop reporting board of the Department of Agriculture. The July 1 estimate—before the drouth took its heaviest toll-was 2,244,834,000 bushels. The 1935 production was 2.291,629,000.

"Irrespective of weather conditions during the remainder of the season," the board reported, "there will be a shortage of grain that will necessitate rather heavy marketings of grain-consuming livestock and a restock wintered.

DALLAS, Ga., Aug. 10.—Charles
D. Redwine, candidate for governor, spoke at Dallas this afternoon. In discussing the issues of the campaign, Redwine said:

"I am running as the candidate of no man or faction. Charlie Redwine wears his own collar. If I am elected your governor, it is my intention to administer the affairs of Georgia economically, fair and honestly.

"I do not intend to make promises that I can be used through timberlands of seven states and parts of Canada last night, defying efforts of thousands of trained and volunteer fire fighters in many seven state as originally intended. "I propose to work at all times with a view of building up the efficiency of the state government and its various political subdivisions and not with a view of trying to tear down any departments."

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

POLLING WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Democratic moguls are not as upset about the Gallup poll as you may believe. Those who are not trying to smile it away entirely have a valid excuse for believing it does not necessarily mean bad news for President Roosevelt.

The only votes that count are electoral, not popular. Dr. Gallup's latest electoral figures showed 276 for Landon (less than half of them listed as "safe"), and 255 for Mr. Roosevelt (all but 22 labeled "safe").

This division is based on an expected popular vote of 52 per cent for Roosevelt and 48 per cent for Landon, exclusive of the independent candidates.

Anyone trying to forecast the result of an election on the basis of a margin so narrow is obviously involved in a hazardous undertaking. But Spanish rebel general Mella, the in-surgents launched a counter-attack. This division is based on an expected popular vote of 52 per cent for against the hills of the north of Ma-Roosevelt and 48 per cent for Landon, exclusive of the independent margin so narrow is obviously involved in a hazardous undertaking. But the hazards increase sharply under the sample ballot system used by Dr. hazardous undertaking. But this editor appears to be a keen man and he may know something which most of us don't even suspect. So I wish the only safe deduction which wise politicians are making is that Gallup, who polled only 166,000 voters, whereas upwards of 40,000,000 persons are expected to vote.

the result would be close if the vote were taken today.

The current figure is roughly about five-eighths of the average Note-Wise financial prophets say the banks may never again do the commercial lending business they did in the old days. The loans of 1920, for instance, included a lot of small ones to the local grocer or drug store man. Now the large chain stores do not need such loans to finance their business. Also the government is now making a lot of loans which the banks would have made in 1920.

loans which the banks would have made in 1920.

For these reasons any increase in commercial loans these days is noteworthy and not comparable with the totals of the pre-depression era.

FAIR ENOUGH

It is a grave insinaution but this the worst about Mr. Roosevelt be-cause, as matters stand, Mr. Farley is carrying the target for the adminis-tration and may be the victim of a cruel wrong. you might call it, was hurled at me in reply to a recent essay of mine on the sinister spectre. In that piece I said nothing more than I had heard from patriots on the platform in the republicans' own convention in Cleverepublicans' own convention in Cleveland. I am rather gullible in this way and when I hear Senator Steiwer denounce Farleyism I took that to mean that Mr. Farley was the sordid spoilsman of the New Deal. If there is anything I hate in public life it is sinister spectres so I denounced it, myself, strictly in the interests of good government, adding that Mr. Roosevelt, no doubt, was the innocent victim of Mr. Farley's sordid machinations.

Since the Rabbit Can't Fight, Nature Concentrated on Hind Legs BY ROBERT QUILLEN.

A poor boy who has no relatives to lean on has completed the first year's work in a small-town college and now wishes to know whether he should finish the course there or go to some school that can teach him a trade.

If he had any special talent or ambition, his problem would be easy of solution must have college training.

If he had well-to-do parents and "prospects," three more years in college would be justified. If he tried to learn anything, his mental horizon would be broadened and his capacity for enjoying life increased. In any case, people being what they are, a college diploma would give him social advantages, the respect of strangers, self-respect and a consequent stiffening of his backbone. You seldom see a college graduate with an inferiority complex.

But this boy, who has spent one summer in a CCC camp and is now driving a truck, must earn his salt while going to school and scratch for a living when he gets through.

Therefore, the question to which he must find an answer is the practical and fundamental one: "Will an ordinary college education help me It did help, some years ago, for college men were comparatively rare.

They were superior men, with something unusual to offer an employer.

But now the land is freckled with colleges, operating on a quantity-production basis, and college men are about as rare as Fords. And a college diploma can't help the boy to land a job if half of the other seventy applicants have the same equipment.

There are many thousands of jobless college men, Ph. D's among them, and many thousands of high school graduates holding white-collar

It is training that helps a man to get a job—the ability to do some particular thing well. If a college education helps to provide the training required, it is justified; if it doesn't, it is a luxury that a poor boy can't afford.

Most of the good jobs now require technical training. And if the boy doesn't intend to be a professional man or a salesman, he had better choose some technical job that appeals to him and begin training for it as soon as he can. (Copyright, 1936, for The Constitution).

DEKALB RIVERS CLUB IS FORMED AT RALLY

Newmeyer, Candler and Mrs. Simpson Named Heads of New Group.

The DeKalb County Rivers Club was organized last night at a meeting at the courthouse in Decatur, with Mayor Ed J. Newmeyer, of Lithonia, elected chairman.

Mayor Scott Candler, of Decatur, was named vice chairman, as was Mrs. W. R. Simpson, prominent De-Kalb leader in women's activities. For secretary, the group chose Dewitt Mc-Curdy. About 100 voters of the county, including city officials of Decatur, Lithonia, Brookhaven, Chamblee. Stone Mountain and other towns were present.

Chairman Newmeyer announced a full working organization would be set up in the county and predicted Speaker Rivers would be given an overwhelming majority.

Mrs. Simpson said Speaker Rivers would bring about full co-operation between the state and the national governments and would help to "bring Georgia back to her rightful place in the front rank of states."

Wheat Williams, prominent citizen of Decatur, asserted that even if the country areas did not produce needed majorities, more than enough votes would be obtained in the Decatur

Dave Chestnutt, of Chamblee, spoke for the northern section of the county and reported it "solid for Rivers."

The club voted to invite Speaker Rivers to address a DeKalb county rally on the night of August 25. Its next meeting will be held August 18.

The present generation of boys and girls is prone to view lightly the consequences of neglected eyes.

Not realizing the strain imposed upon them by modern living conditions and habits, the tell-tale signals which nature sends out are scarcely recognized at all.

Quite as important as an occasional check-up by the physician and dentist, one should have the eyes examined, every year or two by a capable optometrist, as a safety precaution.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—(P)—An airtight blockade of Spain by neutral powers was described in authoritative quarters tonight as an immediate prospect.

This assertion followed Great Britain's third protest to belligerents in ward Madrid.

Burgos rebel headquarters announced the southern troops of General Francisco Franco had reached the outskirts of Badajoz, near the Portugal border, and intended to attack that city before resuming the northward march.

Fascists claimed a victory at Hesca in northeastern Spain, but Barcelona loyalists pressed their march toward the rebel headquarters at Zaragoea.

This assertion followed Great Britani's third protest to belligerents in the Spanish civil conflict.

Today's protest was against the shelling of an English yacht and the death of its owner, Captain Rupert Savile, during a rebel attack on Cadiz in the Bay of Biscay.

A Paris newspaper asserted a special emissary of Premier Mussolini, of Italy, was en route to the Burgos rebel headquarters; this was not confirmed at Burgos.

Paris dispatches also carried a Madrid correspondent's report that Miguel Camazo Maura, former Spanish minister of the interior, had disappeared. Fears were expressed that he had been executed by leftists.

Hope was expressed here that Britain, by withholding retaliatory acts, might set an example for Germany and Italy, whose nationals were killed in the Spanish strife.

The Spanish embassy's naval attache, Captain Manuel Medina, today called at the admiralty and expressed regret over the death of Savile.

The "Tom Pitts" corner, at Five Points, shown here, is soon to be replaced by a handsome two-story building, following modern adchitectural lines, at a cost of from $30,000 to $35,000. The new structure it is announced, will adhere closely to the same design employed in reconstruction of the old Silvey and Gould buildings, adjoining, now known as the Olympi a building.

During the course of the years, Burbank did things which made the world wonder. He brought forth better kinds of plum trees, and better prune trees. He "crossed" chestnut trees until some grew which would bear nuts at an age of less than a year. He produced new kinds of strawberries, applies, cherries, pears and peaches.

Persons in foreign countries sent seeds of many plants to the man in California. Using the stock of three kinds of daisies—one of England, one of Japan and one of the United States—he grew the famous Shasta daisy, a lovely flower with a face from four to six inches wide.

Instead of raising vegetables to sell at market, he grew plants of many kinds, and tried to find which kinds would bring forth the best vegetables, fruits or flowers. This great work he carired out, at first while using only four acres of ground at Santa Rosa, Cal. Later he bought 18 acres of ground, not far distant, and employed it for orchard tests.

Burbank's "Aerial Potatoes."

During the course of the years, Burbank swend billing which made the world things which made the world but he proposed to be fit to eat. Burbank crossed the French plum and other kinds, then grew plums which had no stones and which were good to eat. The plant wizard, as some called him, did not forget his early interest in potatoes. He grew potatoes of new types. Among his trials were some in which he tried to combine potato and tomato plants. He grafted the stems of tomato plants on potato roots, and he also grafted potato stems on fomato poots.

While performing those tests he

"He sure didn't."

And then he proceeded to discuss the issues in a forceful and forthright, manner. There is nothing of the dem-

Will Fight for Party.

When he was done, John B. Gordon Logan, a state senator and a power in his community, said:

"I was raised by a father who was a Confederate soldier. And I know what the republican party would do in Georgia. And I will fight to my last breath for the democratic party and against any man who would destroy it." And that got a great round of ap-

And that got a great round of applause.

"Grass Roots Confession."

And W. J. Murphy, a farmer of Franklin county, said, publicly:

"I am just an uneducated farmer. And some of our county politicians persuaded me to go to the grass roots meeting at Macon. Promised me my expenses but I wouldn't take anything.

"I got there and I found out the whole thing was against Roosevelt. And I told them then they'd got the wrong man. I was a stomp-down democrat and for Roosevelt all the way.

"I met this man Kirby, who now is working for the republicans, and I asked him, I said, 'Mr. Kirby, how is it a rich man like you, born with a silver spoon in your mouth, is down here with a lot of farmers? And he said, 'I want to lift their burdens.' And I just whooped at that because Roosevelt is the first man that ever did help them. And I hollered right out there on the floor of that convention for Roosevelt. And they said they had the wrong man from Franklin county at that meeting. And they sure did. I'm a democrat."

School men arose to say that the New Deal had done more for schools than any other administration in history, and that Russell and Roosevelt

Lindsey Faces Vols in Opener of Crucial Series Tonight

Mr. Lance Richbourg brought his second-place Volunteers into our town last night.

And very chipper, too, he was.

"I'd like to take you guys about four straight," he said. I reminded Mr. Richbourg his nine had the golden chance on Sunday but dropped two to the Knoxvilles.

"Now, you've ruined my trip," he said. "Losing those two games just about floored me. It was terrible. But," he said, growing more cheerful, "that made us so angry we moved in here tonight all set to go after your

There is no finer fellow in baseball than Lance Richbourg. And he has made a success in his first full year as manager of

He has been around a span of years, has The Lancer. He and I broke into Southern league baseball the same season. That was the year Nashville had LeBourbeau, always a puzzle to me because he had everything, apparently, to make him a great major league player, and didn't; Kiki Cuyler, who did, and The Lancer. The Lancer broke a leg that year, sliding to third in a game at Chattanooga. But he went on to become a major league player. And now has become a successful manager.

LeBourveau, called Bevo, had speed, could field and hit. He was, like our own Nick Cullop, a sensation in the Southern and in the AA association baseball. But never in the majors, although each had three trials.

That, I guess, was the best outfield set ever assembled in our league. Certainly it was as good as the best.

WHEN HUB WAS 100 YEARS OLD. The Richbourg-LeBourveau-Cuyler lineup followed a wild and wooly year at Nashville.

J. A. G. Sloan, owner, had tried to establish base-ball in Nashville by bringing in Larry Doyle, former hero and captain of the New York Giants. But Doyle failed miserably in more ways than one. He then persuaded Hub Perdue to become manager. He had a difficult time of it but at last did, saying: "Hub, you can be manager of my ball club until you are 100 years old. Do you get that, 100 years old."

Later on financial difficulties beset him and he had to "reorganize." Jimmy Hamilton came in and brought a good ball

When Perdue was notified he was fired he walked in to see Sloan in a rage. "You can fire me all right," he said, "but what I object to is your telling me I'm 100 years old." Hub had a droll sense of humor which always reminded me of Casey Stengel, now manager of the Brooklyns. A few years ago Johnny Dobbs brought the Crackers into Anniston, Ala., where the Toledo ball club, with Stengel as manager, was training.

A Toledo rookie was dropping fly balls in the outfield.

"That boy doesn't look so good," observed Dobbs.

"He looks better than this morning," observed Stengel.

"This morning the fly balls were hitting him on the head AND BOUNCING," observed Stengel, dryly.

"MISTAH BEVO."

Nashville had, in those days, a colored fan known as "Red e."

He was, or had been, a fan in reverse. He always wagered against the Vols, which wasn't such a bad idea at that, the Vols being what they were in those days.

But when I Rourreau came to fown. "Red Eye" worshipped lack of training.

But when LeBourveau came to town, "Red Eye" worshipped him. He kept up a constant chant for "Mistah Bevo" and he wagered all he had on the team. The best player gag of the Nashville was either last or next to last, concerns Mike Burke, a great hitting outfielder, who later came to Atlanta.

"and then take 10 or 15 miles of road work. Then box and punch the bag for 20 rounds. You couldn't get one of the fighters today out of bed early enough for road work, especially after he had been in a night club all night.

"Baer is a good example of that. He just wasn't a fighter when he stepped through the ropes to meet Louis. He was scared to death and when the negro hit him in the third round he came up trembling all over.

"When I fought Jeffries at Coney Island the lights threw off a tempera-Burke was looking at the crowd in the bleachers one hot afternoon late in the season when the race was about done. "Well," he said at last, "if just one more guy comes they can all get together over there and have a game of seven up.

THE OLFACTORY PENNANT CHASE.

Before those Vols dropped two Sunday games to the lowly denizens of the Knoxville ball park, thereby losing a chance to gain on our brave lads, the Crackers, they were writing in Nashville about being able to smell a pennant.

This was obviously impossible, as everyone knows who has visited the Nashville park. It is not an aesthetic subject to discuss, but it is a fact the public dump is across the street from the Nashville park. And it smoulders day and night. It is impossible to smell anything in Nashville but the smouldering dump. They could not get an olfactory reaction to a pennant there were it perfumed with all the perfumes of Araby. This will, however, be remedied today.

Those Vols are going to really get to smell a pennant. Before the game tonight Mr. Earl Mann, the president of the Atlanta Crackers, will have the Atlanta pennant lowered from the flagpole.

Those Vols will then file by and each one will press his beak against the pennant and take a whiff.

This is to be a courtesy move on the part of Mr. Mann on behalf of the visiting Nashville baseball writers who are due today. They will be allowed to line would be a visited by the visiting Nashville baseball writers who are due to warren's field at 8:30 o'clock.

Warren's also scheduled for any order to warren's property of the visiting Nashville baseball writers who are due. here today. They will be allowed to line up with the Vols and march by and press their distinguished Roman nostrils against the flag.

THE PENNANT SERIES.

This series beginning tonight beneath the moon and the bulbs should decide the pennant. Harry Taylor, our ex-first baseman, was around saying good-by before leaving our town after the Sun-"It will take a lot more hitting to beat Nashville than you Dixisteel has beaten Warren three times in four starts.

Six of Atlanta's college rtars are playing with the Dixie Spinners. Three are from Oglethorpe and three from Georgia Tech. Fror Oglethorpe there is Pete Morris, who hasn't lost a college or high school game in the past five years. Morris has won ten and lost two for Dixie. He will pitch the night game against Warren.

Jim Sullivan and Buster Fisher, the other Oglethorpe boys, are among the leading hitters of the club. Sulvan and Fisher are Il-around athletes at Oglethorpe.

Harry Appleby, the Tech fullback, is the catcher for the Spinners. Bill Gibson, brother of Hoot Gibson, and Bill McNenny are the reystone combination for the visitors.

In the only meeting of the Buford team with the Spinners the former won by ythe score of 8 to 2. Against Warren the Spinners defeated them, 9 to 0. fellows showed in taking three out of five games from us, said. "Those boys really are hot. They have some great hitters and their pitching is somewhat improved."

Nashville, having choked up at Knoxville and dropped two on Sunday to lose a golden opportunity to gain a game on the Crackers, needs to sweep this series to really make a showing. An even break won't advance the cause of the Vols enough to count.

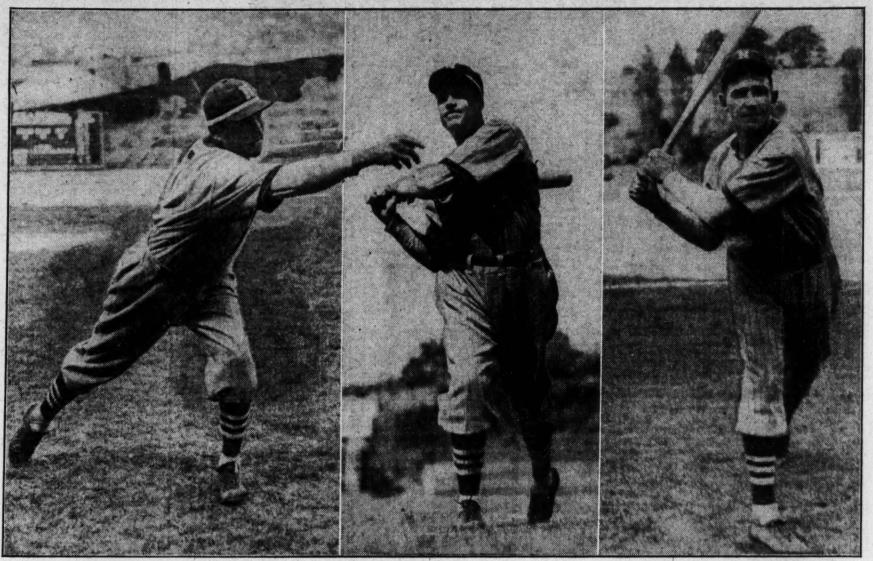

And, despite the fact our pitchers have sore arms and the team seems in something of a hitting slump, we should take the Vols. A victory in games in this series, or just an even break, would be a rather stout indication the Crackers will continue to hold their lead.

PANTING FOR A PENNANT.

Those Volunteer people are really panting for a pennant. Not since 1916 has a flag fluttered from the pole in the Vols' center field. When Jimmy Hamilton built the new park in 1924, he put up a new pole. But now, alas, it too is rusty and old. When we have won this 1936 pennant and have two of

Carleton Rides Dizzy;

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 10.—(UP)—Dixsy Dean, St. Louis Cardinals' pitching ace, and Tex Carleton, Chicago Cubs' hurler and former member of the Gas House Gang, engaged in a fist fight during the first inning of the Cardinals-Cubs game today.

Carleton, who pitched the Cubs to victory over the Cards in a relief role last Friday at Chicago, started riding Dixsy from the Chicago bench as soon as Dean took the mound. After Dixsy had retired the first two Chicago players to face him, he yelled, "Come on out and fight," and started towards the Cubs' dugout. Carleton came out to meet Dean and they exchanged several blows before teammates could separate them. Neither was hurt.

Umpire Larry Goetz ordered Dean out of the game and Carleton out of the park. Charlie Grimm, Cubs' manager, interceded and asked Goetz to allow Dean to remain in the game. Goetz reconsidered and after warning the players allowed them to stay.

the 13 games played with them this season.

The Vols Age T HITS.

The Vols have rapped out 156 safeties in the four previous series, topping the Crackers, in this respect, by 21. The Crackers have secured 125 hits against Vol pitching.

But the Vols have not made their bits count against the Crackers which is shown by the fact that in the important matter of run scoring, the Crackers top the Vols by some 25.

The Vols have scored 60 runs, the Crackers have scored 85 runs.

And, what is more important, the Crackers have won 10 of the 13 games.

BETTER DEFENSE.

gether proper in respect to the standings of the two teams in league field-

By Jack Troy.

Manager Lance Richbourg arrived last night with his Nashville Vols, recognizing that a lead of five and one-half games such as held by the Champion Crackers is pretty tough to surmount.

"At the same time," declared the old Lancer, "we are not prepared to concede Atlanta anything. The Atlanta club is the only club in the league that has won more games from us than we have won from it.

"My boys would like to do something about it. We've won only one gap. "We'd be in a much better position

Nothing to Champions

Riggs Stephenson's crew apparently won the game with a five-run outburst against Lefty Rogers in the third, but the visitors continued to peck away at the lead, finally winning the game with a three-run rally in the ninth frame. Three Baron hurlers could not protect the Birmingham lead. The Pebbles outhit the Slagtowners, 16-8.

"My boys would like to do something about it. We've to game in Atlanta all season but hope to do better this time. "I'm going to shoot Lefty Grissom, one of my better pitchers, against the Crackers Tuesday night, and hope for the best. If he can get away to a good start and overcome the Lindsey jinx anything may happen. "Yes, we ran into some trouble at Knoxville Sunday. The two setbacks hurt us but we are not giving up, understand. We may take it out on Atlanta.

BIG TROUBLE.

BETTER DEFENSE.

The figures show a much better defense for the Crackers, which is alto-ings of the two teams in league fielding.

The Crackers are first in fielding, first in runs and first in the Southern league pennant race.

The Vols have committed a total of 20 errors in the 13 games. The Crackers have miscued just 12 times. The difference in errors makes up for the difference in the hitting.

Of the Vol pitchers who have beaten the Crackers this season, only one remains on the team. That one is Lord Bryon Speece, league-leading pitcher with 19 wins and five losses. Speech shut out the Crackers, 7 to 0, in the first game of the first series here in April.

SLATED TO HURL FOR RICHBOURG

Crackers Hold 5 1-2 Game Lead; Burden With "Vain Vols."

By Jack Troy.

Those second-place Nashville Vols, moving into Knoxville, were "hustling as if they smelled a pennant, according to the Nashville press."

One wonders now, as the Vols come to Atlanta for the most important series of the year, what's in the wind. That is to say, one wonders what the

That is to say, one wonders what the Vols smell now after dropping both games of a double-header to the Smokies Sunday.

Can it be a rat?

Anyway, the Vols and the Crackers will go at it, tooth and toenail, in the first of a four-game series tonight at 8:30.

Our Jim Lindsey, unbeaten by the Vols in two years of pitching for the Crackers, is Manager Moore's nominee for the opening night party at Ponce de Leon.

Lefty Lee Grissons will oppose Lindsey.

10 OUT OF 13.

Lefty Lee Grissons will oppose Lindsey.

10 OUT OF 13.

The Crackers, winning 10 out of the 13 games played with the Vols this season, only have to get an even break to maintain their current lead of five and one-half games.

Up in Nashville, the baseball writers, besides staging a "pennant smelling" contest, have offered a band for three out of four games and the works for a clean sweep.

What they ought to offer is a watch case for three out of four and the works for a clean sweep.

You can't eat a band. As a matter of fact, if the Vols were able to beat the Crackers four straight games they ought to be offered the city of Nashville. Which might not be a bargain, at that.

IMPORTANT SERIES. IMPORTANT SERIES.

The series is most important. The pressure is, of course, on Nashville, a club of lost opportunities. The Vols have had many chances and muffed It is said that it's easier to get on

It is said that it's easier to get on top than to stay there. But I don't know. The Crackers have a lead of five and one-half games. And by now the other seven club have a faint idea of how tough it is to get up there ahead of the Crackers, who have held first place since the season started.

The Crackers should have a lot of bad baseball out of their systems and be in the right frame of mind to take on those Vols, who try to give you an idea of their superiority but can't prove it.

prove it. WE'VE SCORED MOST. WE'VE SCORED MOST.

A rip-roaring series is in prospect. The Vols have outslugged us all season. But we've scored the most runs. By all means, be on hand to see the series opener tonight at 8:30. As the promoters say, action is assured. Three league leaders are with the Vols, including Lord Byron Speece, the pitching leader; Jersey Joe Dwyer, the batting leader, and Poco Taitt, former Cracker, runs-batted-in leader.

CARROLLTON, Ga., Aug. 10.—(P) Rain washed out the second game of the Georgia sandlot title series here today and forced the principals, Savannah and Carrollton, into a doubleheader tomorrow.

The local team, defending state champions, won the first of three games scheduled when they nosed out Savannah Saturday, 4 to 3.

Papers of the winning team are to be forwarded to Indianapolis, checked and returned to Spartanburg, S. C. by Thursday in time for the southeastern eliminations there.

Batteries announced for tomorrow:
First Game: Savannah, Byers and Stevenson; Carrollton, Bolden and Second Game: Savannah, Hagen and Stevenson; Carrollton, Jake Kaley and Jack Kaley.

The Key arena wrestling matches, called off on account of rain Monday night, will be held tonight.

Turk Powell, the Fort McClellan soldier-grappler, will stay here for his match with Wild Bill Collins, which is slated to be a rough affair.

Collins has been boasting to the fans here that he would take the army boy into camp in quick fashion, although Powell's record shows him to be one of the best grapplers in the south. He recently defeated Joe Gunther, former middleweight champion of the world.

Mauldin states the fans were in error when they claimed he put Jordan to sleep with ether, stating it was nothing else but a straight right to the chin, followed with a body pin. He predicts he will repeat and win the light heavy title.

Seven negro battlers will fight it out in a battle royal for a $25 purse.

A big crowd is expected to witness these matches and a pleasant surprise is in store for them.

College Gridders Asemble Thursday.

The Vols have committed a total of 20 errors in the 13 games. The Crackers have miscued just 12 times. The difference in errors makes up for the difference in the hitting.

The next time Speece started against the Crackers, in June, he was knocked out of the box. The Vols won but Flint Rhem was credited with the victory. The score was 6 to 5.

DAVIS WINS.

Ray Davis pitched the Vols to their only other victory. He beat the Crackers, 9 to 5, at Nashville, in the first game of a double-header on June 7.

Davis is now doing some excellent pitching for the Cincinnati Reds.

And so Lord Bryon Speece, the league-leading pitcher, is the only Yol

DIVING, BOXING BRIGHT SPOTS FOR U.S. TEAM

Our Swimmers, Poloists, Bicyclists, Hockey Players Are Outclassed.

BERLIN. Aug. 10.—(AP)—Apparently satisfied with dominating the picture for a full week, the United States turned over the Olympic spotlight today to the Japanese, the Dutch and the Peruvians.

Figuring prominently only in the springboard dive and the opening of boxing competition, the Americans otherwise were pretty well outclassed all along the Clympic sport front.

Dick Degener, of Detroit; Marshall Wayne, of Miami, and Al Greene, of Chicago, placed first, second and fourth in the diving competition with half the test completed but America's water poloists were eliminated by Belgium, 4-3, and her swimmers found the Japanese and the Dutch much too fast.

Olive McKean, of Seattle, and Katherine Rawls, of Miami, Fla., finished sixth and seventh, respectively, in the women's 100-meter free-style final which was won by Rita Mastenbroek, Dutch ace, in 1:05.9, a new Olympic record.

NEW RECORD.

In the men's division, America's quartet of Charley Nutter, Ralph Gilman, Paul Wolf and Jack Medica qualified for the 800-meter relay finals by winning its heat in 9:10.4, but saw small hope of victory after a Japanese combination had set up a new Olympic standard of 8:56.1. Nor was there any cause for American joy in the 400-meter free-style trials, where John Macionis, of Yale; Ralph Flanagan, of Miami, and Medica all qualified for the semi-finals but saw Shumpei Uto set up a new Olympic record of 4:45.5 and two other Japanese, Hiroshi Hegami and Shozo Mankino, qualify in fast time.

Meanwhile Peru tossed a hombshell into Olympic circles by withdrawing its entire Olympic delegation after the International Football Federation had thrown out Peru's 4-2 victory over

Out-of-Towners Give Competition To Atlanta's Popular Young Belles

By Sally Forth.

E ACH year a larger number of attractive young out-of-towners come L to Atlanta to pursue their various careers in the business world and who, incidentally, furnish competition to the lovely young belies in the Gate City of the South. Among these is Lib Hancock, the auburn-haired and charming daughter of the Donald Hancocks, of Cartersville. Lib has spent about half of her life in Atlanta since she lives so near, and is so well known and liked that her friends consider her a true Atlantan despite her residence 50 miles away.

Bess Bell, of Milledgeville, completed her first year of teaching in the Atlanta public school system in the spring and will return this fall to continue her work. Bess is a cousin of Mrs. Russell McKinney, the former Louisa Shivers, popular daughter of Mrs. L. L. Shivers, and she has been a much feted and frequent visitor here. Bess is especially talented in dramatics and spent a year in New York studying her favorite subjects.

wick. of Commerce. Both are graduates of the University of Georgia and are members of advertising departments of prominent firms in the city. Celeste is of a dark type of beauty, and "Bunny," as Mildred is better known, is blond and very viva-

Helen Lawrence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lawrence, of Marietta, is one of the most popular out-of-towners working the city, and she is possessed of an unusually engaging personality. Helen, though employed by a local credit company, com-mutes each day between Atlanta and her Marietta home, except when her friends persuade her to visit them. Louise Roberts, of Athens, is engaged with the same company as is Helen, but commuting with Athens is a little strenuous, so she resides here permanently. Louise is also an attractive brunet, and is quite as capable as she is pretty.

Ida Holt Touchstone, of Griffin, studied landscape architec-ture at the University of Georgia, and is now doing art work with the State Highway Department. "Touchy's" position is only temporary, but for the time being she is residing in Druid Hills and making quite a hit with various Atlanta swains. Elizabeth O'Neal, of Bainbridge, also holds a responsible position here, and her distinctive looks and personality have won for her a wide number of friends. Lamentable to relate, space is limited and it is impossible to mention the many other out-of-towners who are so well known and liked here and who are blazing their way so valiantly through the business world.

ONE of the greatest thrills of the North Cape-Russia cruise aboard the liner Rotterdam for three Atlanta women was being photographed in the brilliant sun at midnight off the northern coast of Norway, well within the arctic circle.

Mrs. Henry Bauer, Mrs. L. B. Joel and Mrs. Bauer's sister, Miss Addie Steinheimer, are the three who were thus photographed. In Rotterdam, Holland, they will meet Mrs. Ludwig Bauer, sister-in-law of Mrs. Bauer, and after sight-seeing in Holland will re-turn home aboard the S. S. Rotterdam, arriving in New York August 20.

Other Atlana residents on this cruise are Mrs. William F. Greaves and Mrs. Virginia P. Archer. Four days in Russia, where the people of today, in the midst of the greatest social experiment in history, are more fascinating than the palaces of the past to tourists, was an-other highlight of the cruise, which included visits to all the Scandanavian countries-Iceland, Norway, Sweden, Finland and Denmark-a little world of peace in contrast to the rest of troubled Europe.

In Norway they visited Hammerfest, northernmost city in the world, which thrives by the fishing industry; Lyngseidet, where an encampment of the strange, nomadic Laplanders lent color with their herds of reindeer; Svartisen glacier, great river of ice, the only one of Europe to reach the sea; Trondheim, oldtime capital, in whose Norman-Gothic cathedral the kings are crowned; Aandalsnaes and Merok, where high, stark mountains rising from deep, quiet fjords constitute some of the world's most magnificent scenery; Bergen, medieval stronghold of the Hanseatic League, and Oslo, capital of Norway, with its great outdoor museum with homes of the Vikings preserved from the Middle Ages and its Viking ships 1.000 years old.

Reyklavik, capital of Iceland, they found a cultured and modern city, with museums, gardens and outdoor natural hot springs where the women do their washing. Visby, on Gotland island in the Baltic, was one of their most picturesque ports, with its ruins of Gothic churches crumbling next to modern buildings, and its profusion of giant roses and other flowers. Stockholm, Sweden's capital, built upon 14 islands connected by bridges, they found one of the most beautiful capitals of the north, rivaled only Copenhagen, Denmark, with its lovely parks, gay cafes and charming, light-hearted people. Helsingfors, Finland, where modern buildings reflect the progress of a nation, and fallinn, capital of Estonia, a free Baltic state, which has had many rulers in the past, were other high-lights of the cruise, a feature of which was a visit to Edinburgh, tles, home of Sir Walter Scott, birthplace of Robert Louis Stevenson and the residences of the great Carylye, the painter Hogarth, the preacher John Knox and a host of other famous personalities.

They could sew one pieced block to another, making an all-over effect, or they could put the blocks together with sashing, or with 12-inch blocks of white. It was going to be possible they saw, to make each block of a different color, having a whole series of beacon lights, or the colors would be repeated. Because there are so many different ways of putting the pieced blocks together it is difficult to say how much material will be required, but as a rule it takes between eight and nine yards of material to make a pieced top for a double bed quilt. HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sunday.—I felt extremely sorry for myself yes terday because I could not keep enough handkerchiefs about my person. My nose got more and more red and sore as the day went on, besides which I was so annoyed with myself for having a head cold in summer It seemed so very useless.

However, like so many other disagreeable things, as soon as I was busy I forgot all about it and today it is practically gone.

As usual, I spent a good part of the day on Saturday at my desk, but at noon Mrs. Dorothy Roosevelt from Birmingham, Mich., came to lunch with her sister and Dr. Mary E. Woolley. Both Dr. Woolley and myself are so interested in foreign affairs we found ourselves discussing all kinds of possibilities while we waited for lunch. During the meal it was natural to drift into talk on the European situation and the anxieties that so many people who have relatives and friends in Spain are now undergoing.

As one looks back over history it is interesting to speculate on what would have happened if individuals or nations had acted differently in I often wonder if these speculations will serve to give any of us more courage in facing new situations.

In the afternoon we all drove down to Secretary and Mrs. Morgen-thau's lovely place for their annual clambake. The tables were set under a gorgeous tree and, much to our amusement, we were told that the tree was protected by lightning rods but the house was not. Their logic, however, is excellent, for, said Mrs. Morgenthau:

You can rebuild the house, but it would take generations to re-

To me the scene is always very lovely with the hills forming a semicircle around us, the sky colored by the setting sun, and as the evening shadows deepen the evening star comes out first to shine upon us. Down in the paddock three colts with their mothers were duly admired, and then we all ate our clams, corn and chicken with great relish.

We sat out singing until it was absolutely dark before we went into Bri the house to dance. Just before going home I persuaded the young people to try a Virginia reel. With a great deal of assistance from the President we managed to get through quite creditably. It exhausted a good many people, but I think afforded everyone a very good time. The President and I have been to church this morning and now about 15 members of his family are about to sit down to luncheon. It is wonderful how, on the Hudson river, one can collect relatives.

From Austria comes word that nine bridge players and send the men (who have patronized and lorded it over them these many years) slinking to cover, confused and humiliated. women's team, competing in a and therefore decisive tourna-in Vienna, has swept the field ment in Vienna, has swept of masculine opponents among whom of Mustria's greatest players, and thus earned the right to represent their country at the forthcoming Grand European tour-nament to be held in Stockholm, Sweden. Since Austrian players are generally accounted among the finest in Europe, it will be seen that the women have earned a notable victory. I will not deny that I was parti ularly pleased by the comments of Dr. Paul Stern (recent international win-ner with Dr. von Kallenegger, of the World Bridge Olympic, who wrote the review of the match for the Austrian

"While most of the men who participated were better, individually, than the women, the result was a success of systems. The men could not give the women the handicap of lefinite system.

So, while I, as a man, may grieve at the humiliation of my sex, there is a great deal of solace for me as inventor and advocate of that system! Super-Camouflage.

Some players stake their all on the success of a certain finesse. If it oses, they shrug as philosophically as possible and attribute their defeat to the malevolence of fate. Other play-ers take and lose the same finesse but, before doing so, cannily maneuver to have fate working for them! As in today's hand:

West could see no better opening lead than a spade and therefore led his fourth highest. East played the jack and declarer made a lightning calculation. He saw at a glance that if West held the diamond king and won it on a finesse that he, West, would be able to count nine tricks for the opponents if South disclosed the A Q of spades by winning the first trick with the queen. (Two spades, five diamonds, and two clubs.) That being so, West would be forced to shift to hearts as the one chance of defeating the contract. And, quite obviously, North and South were not prepared for a heart shift! Dear Miss Chatfield: I am being pear Miss Chatfield: I am being forced to sit by and see my husband kill himself working. He is one of the typical American businessmen who have the idea that the test of success is the size of the pile he makes. The children and I had much rather have him play with us occasionally than to have him remind us that because he won't play we have a fill of this world's goods. Is there no way for a wife to get at her husband and of this world's goods. Is there no way for a wife to get at her husband and show him what a mistake he is making to spend his whole life trying to ing to spend his whole life trying to make money? MRS. F. L. Answer: That depends upon his disposition and his determination, lady. There are some men so intent on what they call success that nothing but necessity for food and sleep can prize them out of their offices. The wife of one of these is merely butting her head against a stone wall when she undertakes to show him a better way of life. "Ephriam is joined to his idols; let him alone."

ket turned irregular, rallied in some sections at the mid-day mark under the leadership of the coppers, railroad equipments and industrial specialties and then was buffeted by selling in the final hour.

Firming of foreign copper prices revived hopes for another advance in domestic prices and brisk demand for leading issues netted gains of fractions to a point or so.

tions to a point or so.

Anaconda and Kennecott, both of which reached new highs, were up 1-4 and 1 1-2 at 40 1-4 and 47 1-2, respectively.

Corporate bonds finished easy. The corporate bonds finished easy. The foreign sector was brightened by a rally in Italian loans. Wheat closed down 1 to 1 3-4 cents a bushel. Cornwas off 3-8 to 1 5-8 cents.

was off 3-8 to 1 5-8 cents.

The Department of Agriculture's crop estimate, not released until after the close of grain trading, showed deep inroads of drouth. It put this year's corn crop at 1 420 125 200 bets. year's corn crop at 1,439,135,000 bushyear's corn crop at 1,439,135,000 bushels as of August 1, compared with 2,244,834,000 a month before.

Cotton finished $1.30 to $1.55 a bale lower under the weight of selling attributed in trade circles to the bearish crop report on Saturday. For eign exchanges were mixed, the French franc gaining .00 1-8 of a cent to 6.58 1-2 cents and the pound sterling yielding 5-16 of a cent to $5.02 1-2.

Brokers' Views

PIERCE & CO.—Trading opinion as to the mediate future is considerably mixed.

COURTS & CO.—Further irregularity appears in prospect but no change in basic round is motion! end is noticed.

FENNER & BEANE—It is likely that a rither consolidation of the advance may a witnessed over the interval of the next a various resulting.

BEER & CO.—It seemed to us that the sit absorbed profit-taking rather well Monay. We expect the cong week to witess generally higher possible. COTTON OPINIONS.

PIERCE & CO.—Trade appears ready to take corrections around current levels. Decline has helped both technical and competitive positions of American cotton in petitive positions of American cotton in world markets. With world consumption American cotton on the increase, reasonable to assume consumption will equal or exceed present indicated production.

COURTS & CO.—Action of the market following the government report reasons.

FENNER & BEANE—Speculative support s lacking and hedges increasing. We look for values to work lower.

BEER & CO.—We feel justified in favoring the purchase of cotton, especially on clines of importance. CO-Broadly speaking most of the trade little in the situation at the moment cause them to be uneasy about obtair their requirements for the next few mon

GRAIN OPINIONS.

PIERCE & CO.—It is difficult to visualize anything but constructive prospects ahead.

COURTS & CO.—The government report was bullish on corn and wheat and should result in higher levels despite the increasing hedge pressure in the Winnipeg market.

FENNER & BEANE—The government report Monday afternoon is not expected to change total figures on wheat much.

BEER & CO.—We remain bullish of wheat and corn. The government report issued Monday afternoon was bullish.

DOBBS & CO.—We believe our prices will be governed to considerable extent by action of foreign and Winnipeg markets for the time being, but look for sharp breaks to meet with good support.

PRESIDENT WILL TOUR FLOOD-RAVAGED AREAS

Roosevelt, Aids Confer on Proposal To Prevent Further Destruction.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.-(P)-WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(F)—After a flood control conference with his aids today, President Roosevelt announced plans for a tour of the flood-damaged section: of Pennsylvania and southern New York starting Thursday and an address on foreign affairs at Chautauqua, N. Y., Friday night.

Arrangements for the tour, which will include a visit to the Great Lakes exposition at Cleveland, provide for the President to leave the capital Thursday Returning to the White House after a month's absence, Mr.

Thursday Returning to the White House after a month's absence, Mr. Roosevelt plunged immediately into discussion of government measures to prevent floods such as those that damental accordance in the last March aged eastern states last March. Conferred on Navy Plan. Conferred on Navy Plan.

He conferred also with Secretary
Swanson and Admiral William H.
Standlev regarding the possibility of re-establishing a naval squadron in European waters, and shifting vessels protecting Americans in Spain.

European waters, and shifting vessels protecting Americans in Spain.

On his tour of flood areas, the President will be accompanied by Major General Edward M. Markham, chief of army engineers; Robert Fechner, director of the Civilian Conservation Corps, and representatives of the Soil Erosion Service, the WPA and the National Resources Committee.

tee.
He will arrive at Johnstown, Pa., Thursday afternoon and leave late that night for Cieveland. Visit WPA Projects.

Reaching Cleveland Friday morning, he plans to visit several WPA projects and motor through the exposition

The trip also will take him Friday to Mayville, N. Y., and Chautauqua; Saturday to Binghamton, N. Y., and Scranton and Wilkesbarre, Pa., and thence to Highlands, N. Y., across the river from his home at Hyde Park, where he expects to spend several days.

WORK EXTENDED

BY PRESBYTERIANS

Around him he assembled members of the special flood control committee, which has compiled a list of projects. White House officials said Mr. Rooseveit had not approved the list and instructions for making it public would not be given until he had. would not be given until he had.

Major General Markham, one of the conferees, said specific projects had not been discussed and the list might be rechecked.

JOHANN SALVATOR—THE VAN-ISHED GRAND DUKE. engaged a captain and crew and tak-ing his bride along sailed in this craft as second mate, that he might In the late '80s there dwelt in the suburbs of Vienna a shopkeeper, Emil Stubel, whose three pretty daughters went upon the stage. One golden summer day the Stubel family were attending a picnic in the woods and were partaking of a jolly repast when their galeties were interrupted by the arrival of a tall and handsome, stately and dashing, bu. ravenously hungry hunter, on horseback. The intruder was invited to share the picnic luncheon and as a result of the chance acquaintance he fell in love, at first sight, with the shopkeeper's youngest quaintance he fell in love, at first sight, with the shopkeeper's youngest daughter, Ludmilla.

An arcent courtship ensued. Fraulein Ludmilla's lover introduced him-self as John Orth, a poor student of Gmunden and she addressed his letters thus. As he received them, as proved by his prompt replies, she did suspect his truchfulness. She Max Mahler, a resident of Gmunden, came on a visit to her father and gave the family a shock by stating that no one by the name of Orth lived in his home town, although one of the landmarks of that village was the Castle of Orth. And as a result of her cousin Max's disclosures, corroborated by subsequent investigation, the beautiful Ludmilla sank into a profound melancholy. Some time after-

That's the trend nowadays—and the correct one. He has one more year of college and could, barring injury, be a sensation at Tokio in 1940. But he cannot eat his newspaper clippings and the first place ribbons are not legal tender at the butcher shop. And pawnshops do not put down much ready cash for gold medals.

Amateur fame has become merely a springboard to professional fame. The boys—and girls—are learning to cash in while the chips are running high. Red Grange did that when his No. 77 football jersey was known from the rock-ribbed coasts of Maine to the star-kissed movie stars of Hollywood. Mildred Babe Didrikson had a lot of bad advice at first wykoft), 39.8 seconds. and some rather awkward management. But she at last got going and is cashing in, not richly, but well. Helen Hicks, tiring of the old maids who managed the amateur tournaments, turned pro. I recall hearing her tell just how fine it was to go in and pay one's hotel and food bill and not have to cadge it at some hotel golf tournament. And to be able to go along as a person and not as some puppet.

The boys-and girls-are learning. Jesse Owens, accordg to reports, can cash in to the extent of about $100,000 hen he turns professional.

The A. A. U. always points out how good they've been to their athletes. And the A. A. U. has been good. But the boys -and the girls-always pay the debt in full.

Paid Terrell Poll Tax.

Allen said Colonel Green, son of the late Hetty Green woman financier, came to Terrell in "either 1892 or 1893." Allen, president of the American National Bank at Terrell, said he attended Colonel Green's functional Health and their weekly meeting yesterday.

"Food Distribution: Atlanta a Fordal Point" was the title of a joint discussion by Willis Poole and Roy Callaway at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Lions Club yesterday.

"The Terrell banker testified Colonel Green malways came to Terrell to vote in presidential elections," the banker staid. "So far as I know, he never abandoned his domicile at Terrell."

This fact, established through Allen's testimony, was expected to play a major part in any possible future controversy over disposition of the estate. Under Texas, laws, Mrs. Green is entitled to all personal property a cerued by her husband subsequent to their marriage.

Crumbaugh, in recommending a $50,000 bond to the court, said "no body knows what the assets of the Green estate are at this particular time." It has been variously estimated from $50,000,000 to $80,000,000.
